

Alpine County Park: Sports Complex You Know It When You See It

Below is the description of the proposed Alpine County Park along with several examples of comparable parks categorized and referred to as “sports park” and/or “sports complex”.

Location and context make a difference.

- As illustrated in the examples below, similar parks are generally located amongst local resources such as public transportation, shops, restaurants, libraries, schools, community centers, etc.
- The proposed Alpine County Park would be located in a rural neighborhood adjacent to an ecological preserve, miles from other community resources.
- In this rural context, the impact of the 26-acre park and its many sports facilities will have a greater impact.
